1. Program Outline:

As a school selected for the FY2018 Inter-University Exchange Project of the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology, Japan, Osaka City University (OCU) is implementing a Program to Develop Collaborative Social Innovators that uses Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL). The university is implementing an entirely online-version of the program entitled Socially Innovative Global Classroom: Online (SIGLOC-online) in July 2022. We are recruiting students to participate in this program.

2. Purpose of the SIGLOC Program:

The purpose of this program is to cultivate social innovators. Social innovation refers to solving social problems through new products, services, and systems. By collaborating with students from other countries, the program will cultivate the ability to “discover issues” and the ability to “find solutions”, and train people who possess the ability to “implement those solutions”. This program aims to yield people who are self-motivated, creative problem-solvers that find solutions to issues that involve, but are not limited to, the government, NPOs or corporations in the future. Specifically, we focus on “three abilities” that are as follows:

1) Ability to Identify Social Issues

When facing social problems, it is necessary to think about the problem within the context of its surroundings (i.e., the environment, social background, and social framework such as laws and customs). As one cannot see his/her own face without a mirror, the context in which a problem is occurring cannot be discovered unless it is viewed from a different angle or perspective. By studying and discussing issues with students from other countries, participants will enhance the ability to discover the context and core of the issues faced as well as find new solutions.

2) Ability to Find Creative Solutions

Solving a problem requires creativity. Problems that could be solved without creativity, would have already been resolved. The program cultivates a variety of viewpoints by placing issues in a new context, and giving individuals the ability to find creative solutions, produce new products, services, and systems.

3) Ability to Implement a Solution

Creation of products, services, and systems for a new context can become socially significant when it is accepted by all stakeholders. To achieve this goal, people in various positions, such as the staff in government, NPOs, corporations, and local communities, need to transcend barriers for cross-sector collaboration. The program encourages participants to acquire an ability to implement the problem’s solution regardless of their positions.

3. Characteristics of the SIGLOC-online:

- All participants will participate remotely from their own place during the entire period.
- Collaborative learning with multi-national participants
- Interaction with other participants in every session whether synchronously or asynchronously
- Conferral of a Certificate of Completion to the participants who meet the prescribed requirements

about the program

- The program is held for three weeks in July 2022.
- The online orientation will be held in early July, prior to the official opening of the program.
- There are pre-tasks and post-tasks in addition to a three-week program.
- The program is packed with content and there is a lot of daily work.

[Notes]

- The 11th SIGLOC program requires students to study about 30 hours per week. In addition to individual study, we designed a program that can be done through asynchronous pair work and group work. Students can create their own study schedule. Whenever possible, pair work and group work can be done together using Zoom etc., to ensure effective learning. It is recommended that students coordinate with their group members for such Zoom meeting(s) if necessary.
