Besides, classmates are very helpful and kind to give advices for new idea and recorrect the mistakes.</li> <li>• They will teach you to become an innovator along with sustainability.</li> <li>• To learn more about different society, culture, tradition, and communicate with different people around the world.</li> <li>• I have learned and experienced a lot of things that can definitely help me in the future.</li> <li>• I would be very likely to recommend SIGLOC-online to a friend or colleague, and I give it a rating of 10 out of 10. The reason for my high rating is the exceptional and transformative experience I had during my time in the program. It has given me the tools, knowledge, and connections to become a more compassionate and socially conscious global citizen.</li> <li>• Because everything was well organized and the program went on smoothly, the professors and instructors were really good at handling the students. I have given a nine because there is always room for improvement.</li> <li>• SIGLOC is about promoting personal and professional development, fostering a culture of learning, and empowering individuals to achieve their goals and aspirations. This online program serves as a valuable means of support and encouragement in the pursuit of knowledge and excellence. And I enjoyed it so much.</li> <li>• It allow normal people to lead and create a change for the betterment of the community that can impact globally.</li> <li>• Sigloc gives room to people who think outside the box , people who love knowing about other cultures and people with positive work ethics</li> <li>• It opens many doors for learners to be widely aware of the different issues around the world by making its participants interact with one another.</li> <li>• This is an excellent opportunity to identify societal issues, develop creative</li> </ul>

		solutions, and put them into action. Also, there are many benefits of doing all of this. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● It is a cooperative learning program that requires intensive and fun learning activities to accomplish. I was able to meet new friends from different places.</li> <li>● The SIGLOC program helped me see different issues that are not being reported globally, and by that, I was able to strengthen my will to help solve these problems through sharing views and opinions to others.</li> <li>● 10, because I learned so much in SIGLOC-online, I understand other cultures and met a lot of people in other countries which gives me the sense of collaborative thinking.</li> <li>● A lot of students will learn a lot of things</li> <li>● It was very exciting to learn about other people's culture</li> <li>● The SIGLOC-online program is extremely interesting with an array of activities. I would like to recommend my friends or colleagues to join. However, I may notice them remember to follow the checklist every single day because of the deadline. If they have a hectic schedule due to their learning or working hour, it is not suitable for them, so they should consider thoroughly. My means their procrastination may badly affect their classmate in this program.</li> <li>● I give SIGLOC-online a 10 and would recommend it to a friend or colleague because we learned a lot and gained valuable experience in this program.</li> <li>● I was able to learn a lot of new things to other people with different point of view and culture</li> <li>● Because it gives interaction with different people from different continents in the world, and also i have learnt a lot from the interactions we had. I have learnt how to write a speech, a proposal, analyzing problems and so many things. As for now I can write my own book due to SGLOC.</li> <li>● I like the goal of the program and i really enjoyed it however, i believe there are still rooms for improvement.</li> <li>● I learned a lot throughout the three Sigloc sessions, and it helped me understand things better while I was also trying to solve problems with other peoples different perspective.</li> <li>● SIGLOC will deeper your understanding. You will learn a lot through the activities. It will also widen your perspective towards other's cultures.</li> <li>● I've learned a lot and the experience was so great with other nationalities. it was an interactive yet fun session while acquiring knowledge</li> <li>● Gives technique on how to solve issues</li> <li>● It is because SIGLOC has a lot to offer you; online active learning and different skills; time management and social skills</li> <li>● It is not simply an avenue for developing yourself to become a social innovator, it is a safe space for learning the unique and interesting cultures of others as well!</li> <li>● it's an interesting experience with people around the globe</li> <li>● I like to learn and cherish the opportunity to communicate.</li> <li>● SIGLOC provides us valuable learnings.</li> <li>● I learned a lot and had fun experiences</li> <li>● SIGLOC really a good program. This helps participants to become a social innovator.</li> <li>● I think the only problem I had is time pressured but overall it was good.</li> <li>● It was really fun and a great opportunity to discuss different social problems.</li> <li>● I believe that SIGLOC offers opportunity to learn from everyone (from other countries) without difficulty. By doing all the tasks, we are not only get to know more about the theme of this program, but also become a critical thinker.</li> <li>● I rate myself 7 because there are still lacking and I do admit to myself that sometimes I exerted effort just to finish my activities.</li> <li>● In SIGLOC-online, there is a lot it can offer. It provides an individual with the needed understanding of a particular matter. In addition, participants would be able</li> </ul>

And it really is innovative.</li> <li>● Well I thought it wood be difficult to manage time at first but as we went on it was great</li> <li>● I expected it to be educational, as usual. Yes, it did meet my expectations. The instructors are also very patient and considerate whenever unprecedented situations come along the way.</li> <li>● I expected to be enlightened by insightful presentations, engaging discussions,</li> </ul>

		and valuable networking opportunities. Also, my expectation is to provide us with fresh perspectives, practical takeaways, and a chance to connect with like-minded individuals. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● I expected it to be hard, and I know it will be a fun learning opportunity, and yes, it is super fun indeed. I also expected it to have smart instructors, and not only are they smart, but they are also super kind.</li> <li>● I expected a really culturally diverse learning environment, and yes it was met.</li> <li>● I was expecting that we only just do is to edit pictures and logos, but then it's something more that I was happy to meet new people. The instructors are nice and responsible for their roles, I wanted to thank them to give such effort.</li> <li>● I expected it to be a more in depth teaching from instructors. It didn't met my expectations but it was great experience.</li> <li>● Expected it to be less involving</li> <li>● I desired about how to address social problems in my community. After taking part in SIGLOC-online program, I have acknowledged a lot of skills which helps me how to analyse and organize the society's issue in the long run.</li> <li>● I assume that as participants, we would meet other individuals who are also participants from other countries, and SIGLOC-online exceeds my expectations from orientation to the closing session.</li> <li>● I expected it to be more difficult than my other subject and I expected it to enhance or improve my procrastination skill. These expectation were meet by SigLoc, I was able to passed my activities on time evem though it ks very difficult, I learned to use my time and be skillful in gathering some data and infor ation.</li> <li>● I really don't have a high expectations in this program however, i believe it meet my reason why i participated in this event.</li> <li>● I expected it to be challenging. Yes, it exceeded all of my expectations.</li> <li>● Fortunately, SIGLOC did not just meet but exceeded my expectations.</li> <li>● Yes, SIGLOC online meet my expectation. I was expecting it to be just doing activities by yourself and finishing it just fine. But when SIGLOC started everyone was alive and happy. And during the SIGLOC everyone was participating through interactive comments by each picture books and I've learned a lot with my fellow SIGLOCians. It was fun experience indeed.</li> <li>● learn new things</li> <li>● I expected that the instructors are considerate and take care all our concerns. As well as, I will get to learn more about societal issues. Hence, SIGLOC-online met my expectations.</li> <li>● My initial expectations were right; I'll be able to talk to different kinds of people, and as I went through it, my expectations were exceeded. I had fun and learned so much in a short period of time.</li> <li>● expected more learning than discovering. it did not meet most of my expectations</li> <li>● Understand the development conditions and thinking of different countries.</li> <li>● Meaningful and fun activites.</li> <li>● Yes, it met my expectations.</li> <li>● I expect it having more synchronous sessions.</li> <li>● Yes. I expected that I will have new friends across the globe.</li> <li>● Yes, It has always exceeded my expectation just like anyone else.</li> <li>● I expect the program to be very challenging and fun, and it did not disappoint me.</li> <li>● I expected that SIGLOC would give me a lot of knowledge about sustainability. I am majoring health nutrition study, thus, I haven't studied that theme deeply enough. I would say that SIGLOC meets my expectations. The tasks along with the interaction with other participants help me to learn that theme.</li> <li>● I thought it was a continues online session in a means that there are teachers to share knowledge with regards to social issues and how to resolve them but what the program this is also efficient to improve the critical thinking of students</li> </ul>

		regarding social issues. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● My expectations were to be meet new people and gather new perspectives in life. Fortunately, it was all fulfilled.</li> <li>● I didn't expect or didn't think I'd manage but I'm glad I did</li> <li>● My expectation in sigloc is about the creation of logos and many activities to be done such as discussing the problems in each area of the participants who are also involved in sigloc and that my expectation is compatible with what we did in sigloc</li> <li>● I expected it to be in form of lectures, but it was amazing studying on our own.</li> <li>● I never had any because I was unaware of the content. Now can say, it was a good experience</li> <li>● I have expected before that this program will open up my mind to different cultures worldwide, which what really happened</li> <li>● Transitioning from a face-to-face event like SIGLOC to an online format may lead to certain expectations and preferences. To effectively manage these expectations on my own, it's essential to recognize the benefits of the online setting. While in-person interactions have their charm, embracing the online experience opens up new possibilities. Online events like SIGLOC offer flexibility and accessibility, allowing participants from around the world to engage without geographical constraints. Additionally, the virtual platform can facilitate networking with a diverse global audience, creating opportunities for cross-cultural exchange and collaboration. By setting realistic goals and actively engaging in the online sessions, participants can make the most of the event and maximize their learning experience.</li> <li>● Creating a dedicated workspace free from distractions is crucial to fully immerse oneself in the virtual environment. Although screen time can be taxing, managing breaks and balancing it with offline activities can alleviate fatigue. Active participation in Q&amp;A sessions, virtual meet-ups, and breakout discussions fosters meaningful interactions and knowledge-sharing. Moreover, participants can continue their engagement after the event by following up with new connections and providing feedback to event organizers for future improvements. Ultimately, a positive and open-minded approach allows individuals to embrace the benefits of online SIGLOC, harnessing its potential for growth, learning, and building valuable connections.</li> </ul>
Theme	3. What did you find the theme of this SIGLOC (SDGs: Social Innovation in your local community toward solving global issues)?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● I find value, challenges, strategies and opportunities.</li> <li>● That local community can also be a global issue that everyone can relate to. The theme made us instant social innovators in making a picture book and having interactive tasks.</li> <li>● Act locally and think globally</li> <li>● It is very helpful to address the pressing issues of different communities and propose some activities as part of the solution.</li> <li>● The emphasis on "Social Innovation" suggests that the event may have explored creative and novel approaches to tackling various societal challenges while considering the broader impact on a global scale. Participants might have discussed how to engage and empower communities to take action and work collectively toward achieving the SDGs.</li> <li>● The them of SIGLOC really will help everyone in understanding issues and creating and taking part of the change that we wanted to happen.</li> <li>● The theme of SIGLOC served as a powerful call to action, urging us to be agents of positive change in our local communities and to recognize the ripple effects of our actions on a global scale. It was a theme that ignited passion, curiosity, and a commitment to creating a better world for present and future generations.</li> <li>● It was pretty good</li> <li>● Social innovation plays a crucial role in inspiring change, fostering collaboration,</li> </ul>

		and creating sustainable solutions for a better future. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● I think it is trying to deliver that even a normal citizen at any age and without any powerful position in the government can create a change in the society.</li> <li>● The theme is good if we have many young innovators the world will definitely be better</li> <li>● I found it very relevant since we need more social innovators who can think of different measures to solve the local and global issues.</li> <li>● This theme would likely emphasize the importance of grassroots efforts, collaboration, and creativity in finding solutions to global issues. By focusing on local communities, the goal would be to empower individuals and organizations to take action and make a positive impact within their immediate environments.</li> <li>● In solving global issues, it requires collaborative works from different organizations. This participations and involvement should be long-term to achieve long-term sustainability to help solve global issues.</li> <li>● The theme really stood for what it is.</li> <li>● I find it interesting so then I made my picture book or like research and I did know more about my local community that facing a social issue which is the floods.</li> <li>● It was relevant</li> <li>● It was okay</li> <li>● I find the theme of SIGLOC in my local community about animal welfare.</li> <li>● I think the theme fits the program, particularly the sessions and tasks we've completed.</li> <li>● Creative solution for social problems, whole focusing on local communities, we can tap into the unique knowledge and resources to tackle global issues effectively.</li> <li>● It was good.</li> <li>● I'm interested in the topic since there are so many problems that society faces these days as a result of modern life, and I believe that as an adolescent, I should contribute to identifying viable solutions.</li> <li>● The theme was fulfilling. SIGLOC thought the students to be a great social innovator. Knowing that we have different social issues, it inspires us solving problems or creating a solutions that will not only help our local community but will also benefit globally.</li> <li>● helpful</li> <li>● It was impressive since it emphasizes the importance of addressing global issues through local actions and social innovation. As well as, it achieves the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) which I like the most since it aims to foster collective action in order to make a world a better place.</li> <li>● I found it extremely insightful! I wish this topic can be taught to other SIGLOCians in the future as it contains valuable lessons that mainly talk about the current state of affairs in the world today.</li> <li>● it was okay</li> <li>● local creation</li> <li>● Useful and interesting.</li> <li>● It is very timely</li> <li>● Local sustainability plays a crucial role in achieving global sustainability. By focusing on sustainable practices at the local level, we can contribute to the overall well-being of the planet. Local sustainability involves promoting environmentally friendly practices, conserving resources, reducing waste, and supporting the local economy. These efforts have a ripple effect, as they can inspire and influence others to adopt sustainable practices in their own communities.</li> <li>● Furthermore, local sustainability initiatives often address specific regional challenges and needs. By understanding and addressing these unique factors, we</li> </ul>

Online Program & ICT

7. What kind of applications did you use for communicating with your group/team?

8. Give some comments on what was difficult and/or needs to be improved regarding the communication environment and software applications that were used in the program.

- None
- All good.
- It would be very much appreciated if the program can have a messenger chatbox, where everyone has a messenger. Because the Slack app is inconvenient when times of not having wifi internet, or laptops.
- No problem with ICT
- Everything went smoothly.
- I have no comment because all the platforms used are good and easy to use.
- All is good
- Time Zone Differences: The global nature of the program meant that participants were from different time zones, which sometimes resulted in scheduling conflicts and challenges in finding suitable meeting times for everyone. More flexible scheduling or recording sessions for later access could mitigate this issue.
- ICT environment was favorable for me through out the program.. communication was okay from the instructors
- communication environment and software applications used are good and have no problem. but maybe next time, use other applications that are more familiar to the participants. But overall, it is good.
- Internet connection is fine it's just that the super typhoon became a challenge for some participants.
- I just had a hard time in getting my nickname approved. I thought I just need to chnage my nickname in Google, but I also need to change my nickname in Slack.
- I feel making groups on Twitter or Whatsapp would do
- During the 10th SIGLOC, we have one zoom background. However, during the 15th SIGLOC, only the instructors have zoom background. It would have been nice if all of the participants have the same zoom background for unity.
- I had problems with my Internet connection when Super Typhoon Egay hit the Philippines. Up until now, we don't have electricity. So, it's very hard to do the activities when all my gadget don't have power.
- nothing so far. The ICT environment is well made
- Nothing at all.
- The internet connection is intermittent because of the typhoon
- Apart from Zoom I think it could be good of you can be using Google meeting as well
- Actually it is my very first time to join Slack. I really like the outline and interaction of this communication platform.
- The issues I encountered were a power interruption and minor issues with my internet connection cause by a typhoon.
- For me, there is no problem regarding ICT environment
- I can't use Slack when there is slow internet connection, unlike the Messenger app on Facebook where it still works even though I am on Free data, and one of

		my collage friends who also joined the program is unable to download Slack on his phone. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● The only problem I had was when the super typhoon came to PH. We don't have stable internet connection.</li> <li>● setting up requires a lot of specific steps</li> <li>● I don't have anything to say.</li> <li>● the ict which suppose to mark completed needs to be improved</li> <li>● more clear instructions should be given for the tasks</li> <li>● help or tutorial videos should be provided , not every one knows how to use the computer</li> <li>● My computer operating system is too old.</li> <li>● We only have strong internet connection at night. Hence, I did most activities of mine at that time.</li> <li>● The internet connection</li> <li>● The ICT environment is actually good. I never experienced a hard time accomplishing my ICT, and manual really helped me a lot.</li> <li>● I think I never had any difficulties only that most of us encountered is during the typhoon and other than that, nothing more.</li> <li>● There is no technical difficulties.</li> <li>● I think slack is not convenient for everyone. There are some people who only have slack in laptop. Thus, they will read all the information provided when they turn on the laptop. Besides, I often underwent internet connection problem in my area. I couldn't run zoom properly.</li> <li>● I think the platform used was difficult to understand I suggest to use other social media platform perhaps.</li> <li>● I did not encounter any difficulties, although it was new to me. Every app/software used is efficient.</li> <li>● Please increase the communication platforms Include WhatsApp if possible</li> <li>● We need to be aware when there is a typhoon coming we need to charge all the devices so that we can still join the meetings and like what happened last meeting my internet was very weak because there was a typhoon and I was not ready</li> <li>● Creating zoom meetings for</li> <li>● Nothing</li> <li>● I don't see any problems with the program's ICT Environment, thus, they are considerate especially to us, form the Philippines who recently experienced the super typhoon's disaster.</li> <li>● Some participants in the program expressed difficulties and areas that need improvement regarding the communication environment and software applications used. One common challenge was the need for clearer communication guidelines and instructions on how to effectively use the software platforms. Some participants found it challenging to navigate the various features and functionalities, leading to confusion during sessions.</li> <li>● Additionally, there were comments about occasional technical glitches and connectivity issues, particularly for those with unstable internet connections. These disruptions resulted in missed opportunities to fully engage in discussions and activities. Some participants also mentioned that the lack of a reliable internet connection hindered their ability to access certain materials or interact with others in real-time.</li> <li>● Furthermore, a few participants faced challenges with language barriers during online sessions. While English was the primary language of communication, some felt that additional support for non-native English speakers would have improved the overall experience.</li> <li>● To address these concerns and improve the communication environment, it is recommended to provide participants with clear and comprehensive guidelines</li> </ul>

		on using the software applications. Pre-event training or orientation sessions could help familiarize participants with the platforms' functionalities and troubleshooting techniques. Moreover, offering technical support during the event can be beneficial in resolving connectivity issues promptly. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● For participants with internet connectivity problems, organizers could consider providing alternative options for accessing event materials, such as downloadable resources or asynchronous content. Offering translations or providing simultaneous interpretation services for non-native English speakers can also promote inclusivity and ensure everyone can fully participate and engage in discussions.</li> <li>● Overall, improving the communication environment and addressing technical challenges would enhance the overall experience for participants, making the program more accessible and seamless for individuals with varying levels of technological proficiency and internet connectivity.</li> </ul>
	9. What are the pros and cons of learning online compared to participating in an actual study-abroad program/training?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Pros of learning online is we can get things fast and more efficient, cons is sometimes group members are not responding and there will be few problems such as lost of internet connection, lost of electricity due to the thunderstorm and typhoon.</li> <li>● Of course, the cons will be the unstable internet connection, since it was the one we encountered while we were in class. Like the unexpected disasters we have encountered, I believe it would be very inconvenient. But, the pros are, we can interact even when members are far away, and we can easily communicate and do tasks without having to worry during "class hours". In short, online classes will let us have more time to do tasks and not be pressured personally.</li> <li>● Pros: flexible time, work from anywhere, fastest way to connect each other. Cons: no active interaction, attendants are not pay attention enough for online course, sometimes has a internet connection problem</li> <li>● Pros: time is much flexible, unlimited information Cons: internet and electricity might be lost, misunderstanding of communication.</li> <li>● Pros: Flexibility, Accessibility, Cost-Effectiveness, Diverse Course Offerings Cons: Limited Social Interaction, Less Immersion, Self-Discipline Required, Lack of Practical Experience</li> <li>● Online learning makes the gap of everyone be smaller. However, the time zone of everyone makes it a drawback as we do not have the same time zones.</li> <li>● Pros of Learning Online: Flexibility in scheduling and location. Cost-effective with reduced travel and living expenses. Global accessibility, enabling students from anywhere to participate. Cons of Learning Online: Limited social interaction and networking opportunities. Potential lack of hands-on experience for certain subjects. Technical issues and connectivity problems can disrupt learning.</li> <li>● Pros of Study-Abroad Programs: Cultural immersion, fostering a deeper understanding of different cultures. Hands-on experience and practical training in a new environment. Personal growth and adaptability by stepping outside comfort zones. Cons of Study-Abroad Programs: Higher cost, including travel, tuition, and living expenses. Logistical challenges in arranging visas and accommodations. Initial cultural adjustment and potential homesickness.</li> <li>● Online learning is highly dependant on ict environment, there is also little contact between the students and professors.but it also happens to be convenient in cases where we need to save finances, it makes learning easier as information is at our finger tips, it also enables people from different places to associate</li> </ul>

		academically. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Pros: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Flexibility - Online learning allows for greater flexibility in terms of when and where you study.</li> <li>Global Networking: Students in online courses have the opportunity to interact with peers from different countries and cultural backgrounds, fostering a global network and expanding perspectives.</li> </ul> </li> <li>Cons: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Limited Personalized Support: While many online courses provide support through forums or virtual office hours, some students may find it challenging to receive immediate and personalized assistance from instructors. But overall, it is good.</li> </ul> </li> <li>● Pros is that it is flexible, but sometimes the time difference is a little confusing.</li> <li>● Sometimes there is bad connection and it's difficult to keep up</li> <li>● It is very convenient for us and flexible since we can work at our own comfort. However, there are times that power outage and poor internet connection stops us from accomplishing all the tasks on time.</li> <li>● Learning online offers several advantages, including flexibility in scheduling, accessibility to diverse courses, and cost-effectiveness by eliminating travel expenses. Learners can study from the comfort of their homes and access a plethora of multimedia resources and interactive tools for enhanced learning. However, online education has drawbacks, such as limited social interaction, which may hinder collaborative learning and networking opportunities. Additionally, it demands self-discipline and motivation, as there is no direct supervision. Reliable internet access and suitable devices are crucial for a seamless learning experience, and learners should carefully evaluate the credibility of online course providers.</li> <li>● Pros - Accessibility of time and place, affordability, and flexibility Cons - Technology issues</li> <li>● I don't really know because I still haven't get the chance to study abroad, but I think.. physical communication is still better than online.</li> <li>● Internet connection is a problem.</li> <li>● Pros: It is flexible Cons: it is more enjoyable</li> <li>● Pro:it's mobile you can do it anywhere. con: subjected to internet connection problems. There are some advantages of learning online: consuming time to remove and commute, watching recording missing session, taking part program regardless working or studying individually.</li> <li>● The benefits of studying online include the ability to study on your own time and at a lower cost. The disadvantages include issues with internet connectivity. The advantages of an annual abroad program/training are that you can study other cultures, beliefs, and languages, and you can gain hands-on experience that is usually available in an abroad program/training. The disadvantages of an actual studying abroad program/training are that it can be more expensive than online learning.</li> <li>● pros is that I can do it on my own pace and it is flexible for me because there is no fixed time on when should I do the activity but there is a deadline, for the cons, I was not able to try or experienced how it feels to study in different settings and manner. And I was not able meet other people face to face.</li> <li>● Pros <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Online learning allows for greater flexibility in scheduling. Students can access course materials and lectures at their own convenience, making it easier to balance studies with other commitments or responsibilities. Online learning eliminates geographical barriers, enabling students to access courses from top institutions worldwide. This provides access to a broader range of subjects and</li> </ul> </li> </ul>

		expertise. Participating in online learning equips students with valuable digital literacy skills and proficiency in using various technological tools. Cons Online learning lacks face-to-face interaction, which can lead to a sense of isolation and reduced opportunities for networking and forming meaningful connections. And also, technical issues, such as internet connectivity problems or platform glitches, can disrupt the learning process and cause frustration. And also, some fields of study, such as certain sciences or arts, require hands-on experience that may be challenging to replicate in an online setting. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● online learning is hard when the internet is not cooperating however it is also convenient for the students and the teachers.</li> <li>● The benefits are that I can work at my own pace, unlike when you have to attend a real meeting where you actually need to see each other throughout classes, and it also gives me more time to contemplate. The drawback is that I get easily distracted, which can encourage procrastination, especially if the person lacks self-discipline.</li> <li>● The time and expenses is the main pros of learning online since participating in actual study abroad requires money and a lot of time to process some papers needed. The cons of learning online is that you are far from your companions.</li> <li>● Maybe the pros of actual study-abroad program/training is that there will be no problem with internet connection, everyone can participate and can pass in exact due time, and will be able to meet your classmates and be a real friends while cons is the other way around.</li> <li>● limited interaction</li> <li>● Pros: Flexibility, Self Learning, and Cost-Efficient Cons: Internet Connectivity, Distractions, Limited Social Interaction</li> </ul> One of the cons is the limited interaction that you get. Learning should be adjacent to interaction between the participants, and due to the limitations of the tools, synchronous and live exchange of ideas is curtailed. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● network issue is con</li> <li>● no, everything is very good.</li> <li>● Cons. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Poor internet connection</li> <li>● Lack of human connection</li> <li>● It is more accessible and cheap</li> </ul> </li> <li>● Learning online and participating in a study-abroad program or training both have their own set of pros and cons. Here are some points to consider:</li> <li>● Pros of learning online: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Flexibility: Online learning allows you to study at your own pace and schedule, providing flexibility for those with other commitments or responsibilities.</li> <li>2. Accessibility: Online courses and resources are often easily accessible from anywhere with an internet connection, allowing individuals to learn from the comfort of their own homes.</li> <li>3. Cost-effective: Online learning can be more affordable compared to study-abroad programs, as it eliminates expenses such as travel, accommodation, and visa fees.</li> <li>4. Diverse learning options: Online platforms offer a wide range of courses and programs, allowing learners to explore various subjects and disciplines.</li> </ol> </li> <li>● Cons of learning online: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Limited practical experience: Online learning may lack hands-on experiences and practical application, which can be a disadvantage for certain fields or subjects that require physical presence or interaction.</li> <li>2. Limited networking opportunities: Participating in a study-abroad program often provides opportunities to network with people from different cultures and</li> </ol> </li> </ul>

		backgrounds, which can be valuable for personal and professional growth. 3. Potential for distractions: Learning online requires self-discipline and motivation, as there may be distractions at home or in the online environment that can hinder focus and productivity. 4. Less immersive cultural experience: Study-abroad programs offer the chance to immerse oneself in a different culture, language, and environment, providing a more comprehensive understanding of global perspectives. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Ultimately, the choice between learning online and participating in a study-abroad program or training depends on individual preferences, goals, and the specific learning outcomes desired. It is important to consider the advantages and disadvantages of each option to make an informed decision.</li> <li>● I think the Pros of Studying online are Flexibility and Convenience: Online learning offers flexibility in terms of schedule and location. Students can access course materials and lectures at their own pace, making it easier to balance education with other commitments like work or family. and its cons are Limited Social Interaction: Online learning may lack the face-to-face interactions and networking opportunities available in traditional classroom settings, potentially leading to a sense of isolation.</li> <li>● On the other hand, pro of studying abroad is Cultural Immersion: Studying abroad offers a firsthand experience of a different culture, language, and way of life, fostering global awareness and cross-cultural understanding and its cons is Cost: Studying abroad can be expensive, including tuition fees, living expenses, travel costs, and potential currency exchange rates.</li> <li>● Thus, the choice between studying online and studying abroad depends on individual preferences, goals, financial resources, and the specific educational opportunities available. Each approach offers unique experiences and benefits, and students should carefully consider their own priorities and circumstances when making this decision.</li> <li>● The pros is that you will be able to communicate and collaborate to other people, and the cons are the internet connections interruption.</li> <li>● On of the pros is I get to have a multicultural experience with people around the world without much difficulty. I also learn about how to make social innovation and how to address the issue in local community. SIGLOC provides the opportunity for me to enhance both my speaking and writing skill in English. The cons are some people might have a problem with the internet connection and also difficulty to do the tasks due to their tight schedule.</li> <li>● It was less expensive when it comes to online but if it is face to face the learning would be more reliable and accurate.</li> <li>● These are the advantages I thought of online learning:       <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Poor connection due to many reasons such as inclement weather.</li> <li>2. No actual physical engagement in which learning could be stimulated by the physical environment.</li> <li>3. It is difficult to conduct fun activities.</li> <li>4. Some learnings might be misunderstood due to a lack of physical presence.</li> </ol> </li> <li>● Advatnages:       <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. More convenient</li> <li>2. More freedom to manage own time of studying</li> <li>3. Less expensive</li> <li>4. It will enhance our skills to be technologically literate.</li> </ol> </li> <li>● For me it was just the time difference I was having problems with</li> <li>● For me the online class is a bit not okay because we have different strengths and weaknesses of the internet in our area, the face to face class is better because you can focus more on your studies and someone supports you in everything you do and thank you to all the sigloc instructors because everything was successful</li> </ul>

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● The advantage is that it slows many people to meet within a short time but the disadvantage is that some people May not benefit due t poor network.</li> <li>● Network connectivity</li> <li>● The cons of online learning is the student cannot focus on their class. They are being distracted by the urge to open their social networking sites while the class is ongoing. The pros of online learning is that the students cannot feel the sudden pressure to do the tasks immediately and can handle their time accountably.</li> <li>● Learning Online:       Pros: Flexibility: Online learning allows for greater flexibility in terms of scheduling. Participants can access course materials and lectures at their convenience, accommodating other commitments and responsibilities. Cost-effective: Online programs often have lower tuition fees and eliminate the need for travel and accommodation expenses, making education more affordable for many learners. Access to Diverse Courses: Online learning offers a vast array of courses and programs from institutions worldwide, allowing learners to access specialized subjects that may not be available in their local area. Global Reach: Participants can interact with peers and instructors from diverse cultural backgrounds, enriching the learning experience and promoting a global perspective. Self-paced Learning: Online programs often allow learners to progress at their own pace, which can be beneficial for those who prefer to spend more time on challenging topics or accelerate through familiar ones. Cons: Limited Face-to-Face Interaction: Online learning lacks the in-person interaction found in traditional study-abroad programs, which can lead to a reduced sense of community and connection with classmates and instructors. Potential Technical Issues: Technical problems, such as internet connectivity or platform malfunctions, can disrupt learning experiences and cause frustration. Less Immersive Cultural Experience: Online learning may not offer the same level of cultural immersion as a study-abroad program, as participants miss out on experiencing daily life and customs in a foreign country. Time Management Challenges: While flexibility is a pro, it can also lead to time management challenges if participants struggle to stay disciplined and motivated. Participating in an Actual Study-Abroad Program/Training: Pros: Cultural Immersion: Study-abroad programs provide a firsthand experience of living in a different country, allowing participants to immerse themselves in the local culture and language. Networking Opportunities: Participants have the chance to build a diverse international network, forming lifelong connections with peers, instructors, and professionals in their field. Enhanced Language Skills: Living and studying in a foreign country can significantly improve language proficiency, as learners engage in daily conversations and interactions. Personal Growth: Study-abroad experiences often lead to personal growth, increased independence, and enhanced adaptability, as participants navigate new environments and challenges. Cons: Higher Costs: Study-abroad programs can be more expensive due to travel, accommodation, and living expenses, making them less accessible for some learners. </li> </ul>

		Academic and Cultural Adjustment: Adapting to a new academic system and cultural norms may be challenging initially, leading to some students experiencing culture shock. Potential Language Barriers: Language barriers may present challenges in academic and social settings, particularly for participants who are not fluent in the local language. Limited Course Selection: Study-abroad programs may have fewer course options compared to online learning platforms, potentially limiting academic choices. In conclusion, both online learning and participating in an actual study-abroad program have their merits and drawbacks. The choice depends on individual preferences, goals, and circumstances. Online learning offers flexibility and cost-effectiveness, while study-abroad programs provide cultural immersion and networking opportunities. Ultimately, learners should consider their priorities and educational needs when making this decision.

Moreover, it was beneficial in enabling us to grow our own circle of socialization.</li> <li>● My group mates were awesome</li> <li>● They are okay with the group because I can understand them because it was a bit of a struggle because the typhoon still happened, some members have jobs and others have weak internet connections.</li> <li>● It was okay</li> <li>● It was okay and enlightening, though few negative and many positive comments</li> <li>● they are very great, the pointed out what i should change or improve on my works</li> <li>● The interactions at SIGLOC appear to be well-designed and encompass a variety of engaging activities. The inclusion of a welcome session sets a positive and inclusive tone, creating a sense of community among participants from the start. This warm introduction fosters a conducive environment for networking and collaboration throughout the event.</li> <li>● However, to ensure effective interactions, it's important to consider the volume and pacing of the sessions. Striking a balance between the number of activities and available time can optimize engagement and participation. Additionally, facilitating inclusive discussions and encouraging contributions from all participants can further enrich the interactive experience.</li> <li>● In conclusion, SIGLOC's approach to interactions seems promising, with a well-thought-out mix of activities and a focus on fostering collaboration and creativity. By offering diverse opportunities for engagement and maintaining a conducive atmosphere for networking, the event has the potential to create a truly interactive and impactful learning experience for all participants.</li> </ul>
	9. Give comments on the responsibility and role of team managers.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● I appreciate my leader's effort in making time for meetings and opinions. She did not disappoint me in an interactive session and created an amazing group logo and name.</li> <li>● Angelica is actively and good communicator in team. She handles task in time and manage group adequately.</li> <li>● Our group leader (earth Visionaries) is very active in reminding us the tasks and he is a good listener to our suggestions.</li> <li>● Being a leader is where I can challenge myself to see where I can reach. and with other leaders, they can be approached quickly and we are always updated.</li> <li>● They are very responsible. Although we had experienced a lot of circumstances.</li> <li>● Our group leader is not very responsive and not cooperative. Hence, it was hard to gather all the members to perform the task effectively.</li> <li>● Group leaders play a pivotal role in guiding and empowering their team members throughout a project. Their ability to communicate effectively, motivate the group, and facilitate cooperation and problem-solving significantly contributes to the success of collaborative endeavors. Effective group leadership creates a supportive and dynamic environment, where each member can thrive and contribute to achieving shared objectives.</li> <li>● The group leader from our group was very good at organizing the group.</li> </ul>

She took the lead in making a group logo and to finish the group activity.</li> <li>● Our group leader is competent leader.</li> <li>● The group leaders had a large responsibility since they had to connect us with those of us who lived in different parts of the world, and they were also in responsible whenever the group had a question.</li> <li>● Our leader did his part very well</li> <li>● it was good</li> <li>● Some leaders are good at leading their team however, some are not.</li> <li>● the responsibilities were ok</li> <li>● GOOD!</li> <li>● It was crucial, so they had to exert efforts.</li> <li>● There are little activities which requires a leader</li> <li>● Group leaders are working too good in accomplishing their own tasks. You see also the member's participation to each of the tasks given.</li> <li>● They are responsive and adaptive.</li> <li>● The group leader is not really engaging.</li> <li>● I appreciate my friend as group leader. She made a great effort to balance their academic life and responsibility in SIGLOC. I think the responsibility is enough and not a burdensome. However, the conditions in Philippines caused the difficulty for my group leaders.</li> <li>● all goods</li> <li>● Our group leader was attentive to our needs. The role of a group leader is important in forming a close and intact group.</li> <li>● Our leader was good</li> <li>● There are other members who don't answer my messages because I also need their information, what suggestions they have about making our group name and group logo, it was a bit stressful at the time, but we managed</li> <li>● The leader was supportive</li> <li>● she is great, we are all cooperative</li> <li>● As leaders of SIGLOC, it is essential to approach any delays or challenges on the students' side with empathy and understanding. We recognize that some students may face unforeseen circumstances, such as natural disasters like typhoons, that can impact their ability to participate at a fast pace. While joining the program is their choice, we must be compassionate and considerate in our interactions, especially when it comes to language barriers. By fostering</li> </ul>

Activities	4. Give your suggestions to improve Cultural Activities.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• To improve the cultural activities is we can try to insert a language learning to include some fun in the activities.</li> <li>• It's good so no need to revise it.</li> <li>• Nothing at all, It's fine with me.</li> <li>• It is the best interactive activities that helped us understand each other despite our differences</li> <li>• Storytelling and Folktales: Encourage participants to share folktales and stories from their cultures. Storytelling sessions can foster connections, spark curiosity, and highlight the rich oral traditions of different societies. And also Art and Craft Sessions: Organize art and craft sessions inspired by different cultures, such as creating traditional crafts, calligraphy, or regional artwork. This can be a fun way for participants to express their creativity while celebrating cultural diversity.</li> <li>• They seem to be functioning at there pick</li> <li>• I just wish to be more interactive and engaging. it is good but I just wish it would be more active activity.</li> <li>• I like the cultural activities, but maybe in OneSlide it should be required to share something about participants culture.</li> <li>• Including videos wouldn't be a bad idea</li> <li>• Cultural activities should be scheduled on weekdays so that participants can take some rest and do some personal necessities during weekends. Maybe it is better if the schedule of cultural activities is every MWF (Monday, Wednesday, Friday) or TTH (Tuesday and Thursday).</li> <li>• More cultural activities</li> <li>• it should be more interactive</li> <li>• Make it more complex</li> <li>• I have no suggestions</li> <li>• Cultural activities are diversity and interesting.</li> <li>• It was good, nothing to improve.</li> <li>• I am satisfied with the activities</li> <li>• The cultural slides are very interesting because many participants have contributed to exhibiting their culture.</li> <li>• More time to perform group activities and making sure everyone will comply with those activities.</li> </ul>

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● update the suggested activity in the reference material, the given suggested activities is more fitting to face to face set up</li> <li>● I have no further suggestion</li> <li>● it should be more inclusive</li> <li>● More activities</li> <li>● Cultural activities really value each others' culture. That's why I believe that this program is a cultural-friendly course and others all over the world must join this so that everybody will have the opportunity to showcase the beauty of each culture.</li> <li>● Nothing it was effective and interactive.</li> <li>● Keep the activities being fun.</li> <li>● I think that SIGLOC can make the individual activities to be mandatory tasks. Participants should check the checkboxes in MyCheklist regarding the individual activities. Hence, the participation will increase significantly.</li> <li>● I just hope more participants would be involved across all countries so cultural activities would be wider in range.</li> <li>● They were ok we got to deal with people from different cultures</li> <li>● Everything that was used in the application made me better understand everything to do because I got information from the instructors and the participants All I can say about our activities is that I got to know the participants better, especially in their areas</li> <li>● More time and research has be put in to make it more interesting</li> <li>● none, all is well.</li> <li>● The SIGLOC program truly stands out for its commitment to promoting cultural inclusivity. Throughout the event, I observed a deliberate effort to create an environment where diverse perspectives, languages, and cultural backgrounds are embraced and celebrated. The incorporation of group activities and interactive sessions encourages participants to engage with one another, fostering cross-cultural exchanges that enrich the overall learning experience.</li> <li>● I appreciate how SIGLOC values the contributions of individuals from various regions and backgrounds, recognizing that each participant's unique experiences and insights add depth and richness to the discussions. The program's emphasis on global issues and social impact brings together people with a shared passion for making a positive difference in the world, regardless of their cultural or national origins.</li> <li>● Moreover, the language accommodation and support for non-native English speakers further exemplify the program's dedication to inclusivity. By providing translation services and facilitating open communication, SIGLOC ensures that language barriers do not hinder active participation and knowledge sharing.</li> <li>● In conclusion, I commend SIGLOC for its genuine commitment to cultural inclusivity, making the program a truly enriching and empowering experience for participants from all corners of the globe. Through embracing diversity and fostering an inclusive environment, SIGLOC paves the way for meaningful connections, cross-cultural understanding, and collaborative solutions to pressing global issues.</li> </ul>

Suggestions	4. Give your suggestions to improve SIGLOC-online ?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● None</li> <li>● N/A</li> <li>● none</li> <li>● I would suggest if SIGLOC-online can do physical programme for the next session.</li> <li>● Everything is great, so no need to improve. Time period, instructors and team, and tasks are decent for programme</li> <li>● No comment.</li> <li>● Increase the frequency of live interactive sessions, such as webinars or virtual workshops, to promote real-time engagement and foster deeper discussions among participants.</li> <li>● Kindly be giving feed back on the work completed, if it's good or if there needs to be improvement.</li> <li>● I wish to be more interactive, but it is already good over all.</li> <li>● Maybe have more cultural activities for all the participants, because our group has only 6 members.</li> <li>● I feel the number of questions on DEVI should be reduced</li> <li>● The due date on the accomplishment of session 4 is too close from one another. We need to give 1-2 days for the participants to work on their picture book in consideration of the internet connection and unprecedented situations.</li> <li>● For effective research I suggest that maybe the duration of individual tasks can be increased to a minimum of three days</li> <li>● I suggest that the length of SIGLOC-online program must be longer in order to provide more opportunities for students to acknowledge.</li> <li>● It was really good nothing to improve.</li> <li>● Sigloc-online could think about adding a feature that allows users to personalize their profiles. Individuals would be able to express themselves through their profile page, promoting a sense of community and connection among users.</li> <li>● NONE</li> <li>● If possible, the deadlines should be the same as the Zoom meeting (16:00 jst), since we sometimes run out of time.</li> <li>● search for mobile friendly platforms</li> <li>● increase the duration or reduce the activities</li> </ul>

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● no</li> <li>● None, so far.</li> <li>● It could have been better if this program is extended to a month-long activity so that in order to the participants to finish and to beautify their works, give them more time to finish their tasks. I am not saying that the time frame was not good enough but, it is more satisfying if month-long activities are observed composed with many more cultural activities.</li> <li>● Maybe the time frame of accomplishing the activities.</li> <li>● Regular discussions to be guided by the instructors.</li> <li>● more of participants from differnet regions the asian countries.</li> <li>● I can't give any because I was satisfied with the program.</li> <li>● Just increase the communication platforms</li> <li>● Interactive Sessions: Incorporate more interactive sessions such as live Q&amp;A with presenters, panel discussions, or breakout rooms for group discussions, allowing participants to engage actively and ask questions.</li> <li>● Diverse Speakers and Topics: Ensure a diverse range of speakers representing different backgrounds and perspectives to enrich the content and promote inclusivity.</li> <li>● User-Friendly Platform: Use a user-friendly and reliable virtual event platform that supports smooth navigation, easy access to resources, and interactive features.</li> <li>● Pre-Event Engagement: Encourage pre-event engagement by providing materials, resources, or reading lists related to the topics, allowing participants to come prepared and make the most of the event.</li> <li>● Networking Opportunities: Set up dedicated networking sessions or virtual lounges to enable participants to connect and interact with each other, fostering collaboration and relationship-building.</li> <li>● Recorded Sessions: Make recorded sessions available to participants for a limited time after the event to accommodate different time zones or allow attendees to revisit valuable content.</li> <li>● Feedback Collection: Gather feedback from participants after the event to understand their experiences, identify areas for improvement, and inform future planning.</li> <li>● Multilingual Support: If feasible, offer multilingual support or translation services to reach a broader audience and accommodate participants who may prefer different languages.</li> <li>● Inclusivity and Accessibility: Ensure the event is accessible to individuals with disabilities by providing closed captioning, screen reader compatibility, and adhering to accessibility guidelines.</li> <li>● Cultural Showcases: Encourage participants to share cultural showcases or presentations to promote cultural exchange and appreciation.</li> <li>● Engaging Activities: Include interactive cultural activities like quizzes, photo showcases, or cultural performances to create a dynamic and engaging event.</li> <li>● Promotion and Communication: Effectively promote the event through various channels, including social media, email newsletters, and relevant online communities to reach a wider audience.</li> <li>● Time Zone Consideration: Schedule sessions with consideration for different time zones to accommodate participants from various regions.</li> <li>● Innovative Formats: Experiment with innovative formats such as virtual reality experiences, augmented reality exhibits, or interactive workshops to provide unique and immersive opportunities.</li> <li>● Remember that each event is unique, and the specific improvements will depend on the goals and resources available. Soliciting feedback from participants and analyzing data from previous events can provide valuable insights for enhancing future iterations of SIGLOC-online.</li> </ul>

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Works of participants need to be appreciated, as there some other commitments like classes.</li> <li>● Reduce the amount of work in a day and extend the program by one week with same content, it was so tedious doing other things and this demanded more time in a day</li> <li>● none, all is well.</li> <li>● SIGLOC was a valuable and enriching experience, but there are some areas where it could be improved for future editions. Firstly, providing more opportunities for interactive and hands-on activities would enhance participant engagement. While the online format allowed for flexibility, incorporating more real-time group discussions, breakout sessions, and collaborative projects could foster deeper connections and knowledge sharing among participants.</li> <li>● Additionally, clear communication and guidelines for navigating the online platform and software applications would be beneficial. Some participants faced technical challenges or felt unsure about accessing certain features, impacting their overall experience. By offering pre-event training or support resources, participants can feel more confident in utilizing the digital tools effectively.</li> <li>● Furthermore, dedicating specific sessions to address time zone differences could promote inclusivity and ensure that participants from various regions can fully participate. Scheduling sessions that cater to different time zones or providing recorded content for asynchronous access would accommodate diverse schedules and commitments.</li> <li>● Lastly, including more opportunities for cross-cultural learning and dialogue could enrich the global perspective of the event. Encouraging participants to share insights and experiences from their respective communities would foster mutual understanding and inspire collaborative solutions to common challenges.</li> <li>● In conclusion, while SIGLOC was a valuable event, refining the interactive elements, providing clear guidelines for digital tools, addressing time zone differences, and promoting cross-cultural exchange could elevate the program's impact and inclusivity in future editions.</li> </ul>

I look forward to applying the lessons learned and becoming an active agent of positive change in my local community and beyond. Thank you for this remarkable opportunity!</li> <li>● This was a very great experience and I appreciate being given a chance to participate in the 15th SIGLOC program, I have learnt alot and it's all thanks to this wonderful program. You are all nice people and it has been great interacting with you. Thank you.</li> <li>● I enjoyed it so much. Thank you for the opportunity. I learned a lot.</li> <li>● It was wonderful attending SIGLOC</li> <li>● I enjoyed the whole duration of 15th SIGLOC despite being delayed with 3 and a half day due to typhoon Egay (Doksuri) in completing my session 4 activities. It was a worthwhile experience. Thank you for this experience. I'll always be grateful to share my experiences in here to other learners.</li> <li>● No other comments</li> <li>● I have no idea anymore.</li> <li>● NONE</li> <li>● I just wanted to take this opportunity to thank you very much, dear instructors/staffs, and everyone who is behind the SIGLOC. It was a pleasant and challenging experience for me to communicate with other folks who have different cultures than mine. Thank you again, and more power to all.</li> <li>● thank you for the rendered time</li> </ul>
